1.0 STATEMENT AND SCOPE OF WORK

1.1 Summary

The University is seeking competitive proposals from qualified companies to provide 401(a) Defined Contribution Plan services: recordkeeping/administration, communication/education, custodial trustee services, and investment management services) for a new plan: The University of Florida 401(a) Defined Contribution Plan.

In order to achieve preeminence status as a major public research university, nationally competitive compensation is necessary. It is envisioned that over time this 401(a) plan will be used to help augment and make competitive the retirement for all eligible employees of the University of Florida. The College of Medicine has expressed interest in being the first college to move forward as a pilot program. The College of Medicine has just under $300M of faculty salary. The University of Florida may also expand this offering to the entire university at a later period in the future (Total payroll for UF is approximately $1.65 Billion annually). Employer contributions to the plan will be elected annually based on performance and available funding.

1.2 Scope of Work

Background/Current State:
The University of Florida is embarking on a project to implement a new 401(a) plan for eligible faculty and staff and to select a single qualified firm to provide administration, communication, and investment services for the new plan. For responses to this project, we are looking to organizations that currently provide 403(b) services to the University to augment their current UF portfolio with a 401(a) plan. The plan is to be provided at no direct cost to the University other than any employer contributions made to eligible plan members, and should be able to accept both employer and employee contributions.

For eligible University of Florida faculty and staff, The University of Florida currently provides retirement plan benefits through both State of Florida managed plans and The University of Florida managed plans. Internal Revenue Code Sections 403(b) through Fidelity, TIAA, VALIC, MetLife and VOYA and 457(b) through Nationwide, Empower Retirement, VALIC, T.Rowe Price, VOYA and Charles Schwab (facilitated by Nationwide) are currently utilized for retirement benefits. Employer and required employee contributions are directed to both the State University System Optional retirement Program (SUSORP) (a 403(b) plan) and, in certain cases, the AEF Retirement Plan (a 403(b) plan).

Faculty may make additional voluntary employee contributions to The University of Florida 403(b) Plan and/or the State of Florida Deferred Compensation 457(b) Plan. Plan contributions are limited by both salary cap limits and/or contribution limits. All contributions to all plans are immediately vested as a public education organization. This solicitation is designed to add to the current UF offerings a 401(a) qualified plan.

Scope of Work for new defined contribution 401(a):
- Investment Management Services
  The Plan will offer participants a diverse array of investment options covering all major asset classes. The University of Florida is looking for a single provider that can offer participants a, highly competitive investment product mix for each asset class across a balanced portfolio of funds (large cap, fixed income, total return domestic equities, specialty funds etc). In addition to the diverse fund choices. The University of Florida would like to offer a brokerage option to our participants that allows employees to seek and invest in funds outside the 401(a) Plans core investment lineup. Final investment line-ups will be determined by The University of Florida.

Service Provider shall only offer authorized products to plan members. Service Provider is required to periodically review the authorized products and submit recommendations which will be reviewed by The University of Florida, and approved or rejected by The University of Florida. The Service Provider will not be entitled to retain investment-related revenue sharing amounts (e.g., 12b-1 fees, sub-transfer agency fees, available proprietary fund revenue credits). All revenue sharing or proprietary fee credit amounts are to be credited to the respective plan and/or its Members as directed by the University.

-Administration and Recordkeeping Services
Proposers will be required to provide detailed information about their recordkeeping and administrative systems and use of technology. Important factors include ability to monitor compliance, process participant transactions, provide timely and accurate participant statements and financial statements for the plan sponsor. The service provider selected by The University of Florida must have in place a toll-free customer service center, automated voice response system, and internet service that allow participants access to their accounts. The university requires transparent administrative fees.

-Implementation Services
Proposers must provide a detailed new plan implementation strategy along with communication materials to explain the new plan implementation and enrollment process.

-Employee Communication/Education and Enrollment Services
The prospective service provider will be required to provide a comprehensive employee communication and investment education program that includes investment advice and pre-retirement planning services. Communication services are to be supported by customer service representatives and comprehensive internet services that provide participants with interactive financial and retirement planning tools and software. Field service representatives’ compensation cannot be structured for any bias towards any investment product or advisory services.

-Trustee/Custodial Services
The proposer must provide trustee/custodial services for the Plans or arrange for trustee services with an outside party.

UF’s involvement in the 401(a)
The University of Florida is responsible for interpreting the terms of the Plans and providing Service Provider with direction regarding the meaning of Plan provisions. The University of Florida seeks a Service Provider who can actively manage all related enrollment activity and implement a program to ensure maximum participation. The University of Florida will designate appropriate support teams to assist the Service Provider in implementing and communicating the new plan to eligible employees. The Human Resources office will provide group and individual meeting support to the Service Provider in the initial and on-going employee engagement in the plan. The University of Florida will ensure plan contributions to be remitted on designated payroll dates and will deposit the contributions in a depository bank designated by Service Provider or otherwise to transmit to Service Provider said amount in a timely and mutually acceptable manner. The University of Florida will cooperate with Service Provider in reconciling amounts posted to plan members’ accounts with Service Provider. The University of Florida will review plan member requests for distributions, and, if approved, will authorize Service Provider to process approved Distributions.

1.3 Term of Agreement
The term of this Agreement will be for an initial period of 3 years, whenever the services begin, in 2017 to 2020 with an option to renew based on satisfactory performance and the written approval of both parties for up to two additional three year periods.

1.4 Coverage and Participation
The intended coverage of this ITN and any Agreement resulting from this solicitation shall be for the use of all Departments at the University of Florida. With the consent and agreement of the Successful Vendor, the other state universities, community colleges, district school boards, other educational institutions, and other governmental agencies, may assess and access an Agreement resulting from this solicitation issued and administered by the University of Florida.

The University reserves the right to add and/or delete elements, or to change any element of the coverage and participation at any time without prior notification and without any liability of any kind or amount.

Company negotiators must enter the negotiations prepared to speak on behalf of the vendor’s company. If the vendor needs to submit proprietary information with the proposal, the vendor shall ensure that it is enclosed in a separate envelope from the proposal and that it is clearly designated and conspicuously labeled as such. Vendors who submit responses with information noted as proprietary may be asked to substantiate why the information is proprietary or is otherwise exempt from a public records request under Florida Law.

Selection or rejection of the proposal shall not affect the University’s right of use. Provided, however, that the University will, in good faith, honor any vendor information that is clearly designated and conspicuously labeled as proprietary when the University concurs that the information is proprietary, and that trade secrets or other proprietary data contained in the proposal documents shall be maintained as confidential in accordance with procedures.

6.32 Notice to Vendors of Asbestos-Containing Materials in University Buildings

Asbestos containing materials (ACM) can be found in almost any building in the United States more than 10 years old. The University of Florida is no exception. The types of asbestos most commonly found are pipe and boiler insulation, fireproofing, hard panels known as "Transite", floor tile, and spray or trowel-applied ceiling finishes. ACM is generally not hazardous if left undisturbed.

The University has implemented an Asbestos Program to assure safe management and removal of ACM. Vendors, consultants, and other’s providing service to the University may encounter ACM and must, therefore, comply with the following instructions:

A. Avoid disturbing suspected ACM. Exercise caution and watch for possible ACM.

B. If it is necessary to disturb ACM, first notify the appropriate Division Asbestos Representative listed in this notice, or the University of Florida Asbestos Coordinator, before proceeding with your work. You shall take whatever precautions are necessary to protect humans' health and the environment, and comply with all applicable Federal, State, and Local laws pertaining to asbestos.

C. If you require additional information on possible locations of ACM in a particular building, contact the Asbestos Representative from the Division for which you are working.
